This year there will be no official conference hotel since so many of our attendees will also be attending the National Trust Conference and will already have accommodations. Here are some recommendations:

- The Davenport Hotel at 1-800-899-1482, 10 S Post St, www.thedavenporthotel.com
- Doubletree Spokane City Center at 509-455-9600, 322 N Spokane Falls Ct, www.doubletree1.hilton.com
- Red Lion Hotel at the Park at 509-326-8000, 303 W North River Drive, www.spokaneredlionpark.com

We will have an eight-passenger van available to shuttle those who would like a ride to the venues. We will use the Davenport Hotel as the staging spot for the van. Check the van box on the registration form if you would like to use this option.

Here are two activities to take advantage of on Saturday before our paper session at 2pm:

- The National Trust Closing Plenary Luncheon from 12:00-1:30pm. “Outspoken journalist and Space Needle Writer-in-Residence Knute Berger will lead a wide-ranging discussion of sustainability and preservation. He is the author of the regional bestseller, Pugetopolis and the just-published Space Needle: The Spirit of Seattle and in 2008 won the Washington State Historic Preservation Officer’s Annual Media Award for his coverage of preservation issues.”

- “David Douglas: A Naturalist at Work” exhibit at the Northwest Museum of Arts & Culture. “Naturalist David Douglas traveled the Columbia River and interior Northwest (1825-1833), identifying and collecting over two hundred species of plants, animals, and birds previously unknown to science. Learn of his interactions with native tribes and fur traders of the Columbia country. Explore a unique scientific legacy, including his namesake, the Douglas fir.”
