Report of the Annual Meeting 2005

by Helen Edwards & Linda Smeins

The annual meeting and conference of the Marion Dean Ross/Pacific Northwest Chapter of the Society of Architectural Historians was held in Bellingham, Washington October 7-9, 2005. Conference sessions and tours were held on the grounds of Western Washington University and in the surrounding neighbourhoods. The conference was organized around the theme of sustainability, and the sessions featured various aspects of social, cultural, and environmental sustainability in architecture and community planning.

The proceedings began with an informal tour of the Washington State Archives/ Center for Pacific Northwest Studies, which was followed by an afternoon walking tour of the Western Washington University Campus led by Dr. Richard Francis, Professor Emeritus, WWU. With a focus on early campus planning, the tour began on the green facing Old Main (Skilling & Corner, 1896-1899), the site of the normal school in 1899. We continued to Eden's Hall (T.F.Doan, 1921), a
